TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
RE: MR BRENDON FITZGERALD / FITZGERALD PROJECTS

Brendon Fitzgerald was engaged by us in 2002 to undertake the project management and building of our home, at Yarraville. The building process commenced half way through 2002 and was completed in early 2003. A family member who knew of his high standard of work, as well as his sound professional judgment, through working with him on many projects over the past 15 years, had recommended him.

Brendon oversaw most of the processes relating to the completion of our home. He was very flexible and respectful with the project management role and allowed us to coordinate some of the components of the building process, as this saved us some money. Brendon was always sensitive to what we valued and to what we perceived as important. Although Brendon was not hired to design our house, he had valuable insights regarding the best possible way to bring the plans to life and, indeed, we made some pertinent changes based on his advice. His practical advice, in many instances, saved us a great deal of money. Brendon also made excellent recommendations which enabled us to purchase materials and products at very competitive prices.

Finally, one of the most important skills Brendon has as a builder/project manager is his ability to communicate well with a variety of people. He was always readily available for meetings with us, and other parties such as the local council and he always addressed any of our concerns promptly and professionally.

We are delighted with the finished product. We have a unique, stylish, well-appointed, and highly functional house. Above all it is our family home and our children and we take great pleasure in all it has to offer. We would therefore recommend Fitzgerald Projects to anyone requiring excellent project management and building skills.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Trevor Junge
